OTHER REGISTERS TRANSCRIBED BY THE EDITOR

Dunstable, 1558-1670; Eaton Bray, 1559-1754; Kensworth, 1615-1754;
Luton, 1602-1754; Studham, 1570-1812; Totternhoe, 1559-1754.

NOTE ON THE BISHOP'S TRANSCRIPTS. — This term is used because it is the accepted name for the copies of the register sent every Easter to the bishop's registry, under the Canon of 1597. In a few areas (including Bedfordshire), where the archdeacon's jurisdiction was co-ordinate with that of the bishop, the archdeacon's registry received the copies, in which case the correct term would be 'Archdeacon's Transcripts.' For Bedfordshire they are extant from 1602 to 1871, and are fairly complete, except for the Civil War period (1643-49) and for various odd years. They comprise about 25,000 separate documents, and form part of the muniments of the Archdeaconry of Bedford which are housed in the County Record Office, Shire Hall, Bedford. For as many as 48 Bedfordshire parishes, the earliest extant volume of the original register commences after 1602 (occasionally as late as the 18th century); in these cases the 'Bishop's Transcripts' are the sole source. In addition, the following defects in many original registers are often overcome with the aid of the 'Bishop's Transcripts': (a) missing leaves; (b) mutilated or incomplete entries; (c) illegible entries; (d) confused dates or arrangement. Further, the Transcripts yield facts not recorded in the Registers: these are denoted in the text by [†].

NOTE ON THE CHRONOLOGY OF THE COPIES. — Until 1752 the year in England commenced legally on 25 March. The edited copies of the registers retain this method.

MARRIAGE ENTRIES

Before 1754, the abode of the parties is not often stated, but when the parish the register of which is being copied is named it is abbreviated herein by its initial letter e.g., in the register of Odell, (O.) denoted 'of the parish of Odell.'

After 1754, the statutory form of register gives (i) the parish in which each party lives, (ii) whether married by banns or licence, and (iii) whether bachelor or widow spinster or widow. In the edited copy, it is to be understood, unless otherwise stated that all parties (i) belong to the parish being dealt with, (ii) are married by banns and (iii) are bachelors or spinsters.

* The list is almost identical with that used in Boyd's Marriage Index (Society of Genealogists).

(1 5 9 8 - 1 8 1 2)

HARROLD appears to have been at one time a market town. The market was held on a Thursday and was obtained by charter about the beginning of the 17th century. In Lysons' time it was so inconsiderable that he states that it had hitherto been overlooked by writers enumerating the market towns of this county.¹

With the transcription of the register information as to the parish history has come to light or, at any rate, it confirms or adds to what is already known. The contents reveal, for instance, that nonconformity in Harrold was very strong; that the making of lace was widespread among the parishioners; and that a considerable part of the farm land was occupied with sheep. The earliest reference to nonconformity is in 1696: "John Ball the elder buried without a minister." In 1745 "Joseph Dadley a dissenting teacher" was buried. But the convincing evidence is contained in the burial entries of the period 1803 to 1812. In that time 91 children were buried of whom 40 were unbaptised, presumably because their parents were dissenters.

Lacemaking is first mentioned in 1700 when a laceman was buried. Two lacemakers were married and two buried in 1706, another was buried in 1707 and one married in 1708. In 1750 a male lacemaker was buried, another in 1763. In the four years 1752 to 1755 eight lacemakers were buried. Occupations are only given intermittently, the picture is therefore far from complete, and this remark applies also to shepherds eleven of whom are named between 1699 and 1812.

In the baptisms of 1774 is this entry: "William and Sarah son & daughter of Thomas and Mary Jeffs, they were pretended to have been baptized before by an imposter who called himself Mr Paige." There is an entry in 1766 recording the baptism of these twins. If Paige was not a properly ordained priest he must have set the ecclesiastical authorities a problem because the entries of six marriages between Dec. 23, 1765 and July 7, 1766 are signed by "Samuel Seymour Paige, curate," and the baptisms for 1766 were certified by him.

A note in the Bishop's Transcript for 1772 reads: "Stephen Bond apparitor having left order that the common poor must be distinguished from the rest, I hereby certify that the children of the above are all the children of common poor." Of 17 infants baptised only three are not so specified; in the same year 18 persons were buried, all except one are included in the poor. The baptisms for 1807 has this entry: "John base born son of Ann Ward, reputed father not yet declared as the parish officers for a good reason which distinguishes them to the whole country did not compel her to swear it;" the meaning is ambiguous. A noteworthy item is the baptizing on March 10, 1793 of 23 persons, their ages ranging from 3 to 16; instances similar to this have been noted in other parishes and probably bear testimony to the revival of religious fervour in England following the horror of the French Revolution.²

In 1802 a man died of the small-pox and a woman in 1803, both were buried at midnight. There is no mention of the plague, but 23 people were buried between March 30 and July 28, 1617. In 1657 'the year of mortality in all places' there were 34 burials; other high figures are 47 in 1736 and 49 in 1771. John Mawby buried in 1761 is described as "a publican & sinner."

Harrold Church is dedicated to St. Peter whose festival falls on June 29. Harrold Feast begins on the Sunday following St. Peter's Day. Apparently it was the custom that infants who were born during the few weeks before the Feast should not be baptised at once but be christened on the Feast Sunday. For instance, six infants were christened on June 30, 1799, six on July 6, 1800, four on July 5, 1801 and four on July 4, 1802. All these dates were Sundays. The custom can be traced as far back as 1737 and continued to 1812 when transcription ends.³

Harrold Hall, about the year 1730 and perhaps earlier, was in the occupation of Dr Mead, the celebrated physician, but he seldom came here. His second wife (her burial is recorded in 1763) was the youngest daughter of Sir Rowland Alston, Bart. whom he married in 1724; she was niece to the Hon. Mrs Joliffe who founded almshouses in the village.⁴ Dr Mead was called in to see Queen Anne two days before her death; in 1727 he was appointed physician to George II.⁵

Unusual christian names are: Marina (1700), Sebrah (1707) and Forty (1748). In 1811 a child was christened George Frederick Handel. The Harrold family names which seem to have persisted throughout the greater part of our period are: Allen (1602-1808), Curtis (1607-1797), Fairy (1620-1809), Felce (1609-1811), Fuller (1611-1812), Hull (1602-1805), Robinson (1601-1812), Stook (1599-1803) and Wootton (1613-1812).

The population of the parish in 1801 was 763 and in 1931 was 924; its area is 3241 acres. The adjoining parishes are Podington, Odell, Chellington, Carlton and Turvey in Bedfordshire, and Lavendon in Buckinghamshire and Bozeat in Northamptonshire.

The Register is contained in the following volumes:-

(1554 - 1812)

CARLTON is a small and rather out-of-the way parish but it is not without honour. It can claim the distinction of having had as a parishioner a descendant of John Bunyan, further a family once lived at Carlton which was related by marriage to Shakespeare.

On January 14th, 1803 was buried "Frances widow of the late Mr Charles Bithrey." Frances Browne was born in 1722 and married Charles Bithrey, a prosperous yeoman of Carlton. She was the great-grand-daughter of John Bunyan and lived and died at the Old Manor House in Carlton known as 'The Fishers.' Frances Bithrey was the second wife of her husband and survived him nineteen years. She died childless.¹

On November 26th, 1635 at Stratford-on-Avon was buried John Hall, aged 60. He had married Shakespeare's elder daughter Susanna at Stratford on June 5, 1607. There is evidence to believe that John Hall was the son of William Hall of Carlton. Carlton register bears witness to the latter's presence from 1569 to 1590 in the baptisms of five daughters and one son, also the marriage of Elizabeth Hall to Edmund Sutton. The baptism of John is not in Carlton register; either he was born elsewhere or the register is defective, but a John Hall matriculated at Queen's College, Cambridge in 1589 and he is described as "of Bedfordshire." John's will and his daughter's marriage settlement reveal that he owned a house at Acton, Middlesex. A William Hall died there in 1607, John the younger son being the principal legatee. Other children mentioned in the will are Sarah and Martha (both baptised at Carlton) and Elizabeth Sutton (married at Carlton in 1590), thus identifying the testator with the William Hall of Carlton. That the John Hall of the will is, in fact, the son-in-law of Shakespeare is confirmed by the name of Matthew Morris who is also mentioned in the will. After Shakespeare's death his London property was conveyed to Susanna Hall, and Matthew Morris was one of the trustees.²

Thomas Wells was rector of Carlton from 1576 to 1642. His son Michael, baptised in 1578 at Chellington, married a daughter of William Hall, in whose will he is named as executor in case John declines to act. Thomas Wells lived to a venerable age. On a flat stone in Carlton Church is the following inscription: "Here lies Mr Tho. Wells who lived Parson of Carlton and Chellington about Threescore and Ten Years and died August 5th 1642, aged about a Hundred."³ An amusing incident happened to him in his old age. In apportioning the tax laid upon the clergy for the King's expedition to Scotland £6 was demanded from the rector of Carlton. "This was greatly too much and because he did not pay, the commissary of the Court at Bedford cited Mr Wells (though a hundred years olde) to Bedford Courte and because he did not appear he suspended him and called him an old owle."⁴

Noteworthy items in the Register are: "William Lawton baptised in the fiftieth year of his age" (1772); "John Bird arrived at a state of manhood and on the same day Phoebe his daughter" (1777); and in 1798 William Brown, Mary his wife and five of his children were all baptised on the same day. An uncommon feature in the marriage entries from 1720 to 1812 is the addition of the bridegroom's occupation. In the same period the parishes in which parties lived are given regularly. From this it is evident that there was little movement in the district; out of the 262 marriages, 141 were of Carlton couples, of 65 the bridegrooms came from adjoining parishes, of 34 from near parishes, of the remaining 22 a few came from distant places but mainly from parishes within a radius of 12 miles.

In the Burials an arresting entry in 1758 is: "Sabina (a Black) wife of George Newton." Mr John Gilpin, maltster, was buried in 1794. Doubtless Gilpin frequently did business in Olney, the nearest market town. It is a pleasant thought to suggest (without any foundation) that the immortal 'citizen of famous London Town' derived his name from the maltster buried at Carlton.

The historian of the local lace industry states that "at Carlton a very heavy worsted lace of every imaginable colour was made in widths from half an inch to a foot."⁵ Only one lacemaker is recorded in the register (married in 1764), but lace-buyers are mentioned in 1777, 1789 and 1812.

The Register is incomplete from 1645 to 1657. As was so often the case there appears to have been a disturbance in the affairs of the clergy during the Interregnum. "July 5, 1647. Whereas the Rectory of the Parishes Church of Carleton in the countie of Bedd: is sequestered from Mr. Pargiter It is ordered that the said Rectory shall stand sequestered to the use of Nathaniel Coles a godly & orthodox Divine & that he doe forthwith officiate the Cure of the said Church as Rector & preach diligently."⁶ There is no record of Nathaniel Coles in the register; he appears to have been succeeded by Thomas Greatback who resumed the compilation of the register from May 1, 1657.

An occupation new to this series is that of a jockey, buried in 1730. The Carlton family names which seem to have persisted throughout the greater part of our period are: Bithrey (1577-1811), Franklin (1607-1811), Knight (1575-1804), Lawton (1575-1811), Robinson (1594-1806), Rudd (1561-1811), Wallinger (1611-1794) and Warton (1570-1803).

The population of the parish in 1801 was 376 and in 1801 was 340; its area is 1530 acres. The adjoining parishes are Harrold, Chellington, Felmersham, Pavenham, Stevington and Turvey in Bedfordshire, and Lavendon in Buckinghamshire.

The Register is contained in the following volumes:-

Vol.	Baptisms	Marriages	Burials

VOLUME III.

[Entered at the end]

"A copy of the Act of Union of Carlton & Chellington, 30th May 1769", being the episcopal instrument addressed to Robert Lord Trevor [patron], Benj. Rogers rector of Carlton, and Wm. Hooper rector of Chellington, reciting that whereas a petition to the Bishop has represented that Lord Trevor is "seized of the advowson" of both rectories, that "the parishes are contiguous & intermixt, the churches not above one mile distant from each other, y^e number of inhabitants but few, and y^e Glebe, Tythes, Oblations, Obventions, & other profits yearly arising within y^e said parishes of such value, that they are not sufficient decently to maintain & support two several Rectors; that y^e Parsonage House at Chell: is now, & for many years past has been unfit for y^e Rector to dwell in; & y^t the consolidation & perpetual union of the said Churches will be no way detrimental to y^e Parishioners of either Parish but tend to encourage & enable worthy men to reside & keep up hospitality among them"; and the the Bishop's Commission has certified the truth thereof; the Bishop therefore decrees that the rectory of Chellington be united with that of Carlton, and that the union shall have "effect immediately from & after the first vacancy that shall next happen by the death or removal of either of y^e present Incumbents."

* The injunction of 1538 ordering the registration of weddings, christenings and burials neglected to specify the nature of the book and most of the first registers appear to have been written on paper. In 1597 instructions were issued that parchment registers must be provided and that the entries in the old paper register must be copied into the new parchment book. In many instances the transcripts are signed by the minister of the year wherein the copy was executed. This fact gave rise to blunders as to the remarkable longevity assigned to the clergy.

In the case of Carlton, Thomas Wells signed the entries for 1554 but he was not instituted until 1576. Even so, he was rector for the long period of 66 years. See footnote on p.B1.
